"an eye-popping exploration into [the Athabasca oil sands] impact on local water ecology and peoples' health"
Constance Drognan - CBC Online

"A struggle is increasingly being fought between water and oil, not only over them. Tar sands are at the center of this tension. As the province rushes towards a large-scale extraction, the social, ecological and human impacts are hitting a crisis point. In only a few short years the continent will be a crisscross of pipelines, reaching from the arctic all the way to the southern US."

"H2Oil couldn't be more timely."
Jelena Adzic CBC's - The Scene

Following the movie, join Peaceful Uprising for a short discussion about the threat of tar sands to Utah. For more information, visit www.peacefuluprising.org/notarsands.

"We are creating an environmental catastrophe that will take centuries to recover from... if we recover at all."
- David Suzuki

Free screening, donations welcome.

"There are a number of us who feel this is the biggest unsustainable development on the planet right now."
-- Dr. David Schindler
